OREGON'S FACTORIES GROWING

A SUMMARY of manufactures in Oregon, comparing the totals in 1909 and 1914, has just been issued by the bureau of the census, and this summary reveals the interesting fact the manufacturing industry in Oregon is growing at a steady and healthy rate. Invested capital, for instance, has increased from $29,082,000 in 1909 to $139,500,000 in 1914, or a little more than 50 per cent. This shows that Oregon has not been wholly shunned by investors in recent years.

The total value of manufactured products also shows a satisfactory increase. In 1909 it amounted to $33,005,000, and in 1914 to $109,762,000, an increase of 18 per cent. The average per establishment in 1909 was $41,000 and in 1914 $47,000. The value of products, as shown by the census, represents their selling value or price at the plants as actually turned out by the factories during the census year, and does not necessarily have any relation to the sales for that year.

The value added by manufacture—that is, the difference between the cost of the materials used and the value of the products manufactured from them—grew from $42,453,000 in 1909 to $46,504,000 in 1914, an increase of 9.5 per cent. The value added by manufacture formed 46 per cent of the total in 1909 and 42 per cent in 1914, thus indicating an increase in the price of raw materials during that time.

The cost of materials used was $50,552,000 in 1909 as against $63,258,000 in 1914, an increase of $12,706,000, or 25.1 per cent, in the five years. Salaries and wages amounted to $23,949,000 in 1909 and to $26,514,000 in 1914, an increase of $2,565,000, or 11.1 per cent.

"It is reassuring," says the Eugene Register, "to learn that manufacturing is undergoing a steady growth in Oregon, for under existing conditions the balance of trade is against this state. We buy vastly more manufactured goods from elsewhere than we sell, and as a result we send away more money than we get back. This means a steady drain that retards development."

"But if the growth of the manufacturing industry during the next five years is as great as during the past five, this unfavorable situation will be remedied to a considerable extent. It is to the state's interest to encourage manufacturing growth in every way possible, for without industrial growth Oregon cannot go forward as it should. Restrictive laws that will place a handicap on Oregon should be carefully scanned before being placed on the statute books, for capital for development will not come where it is not wanted."

PITTSBURGH HONORS
MEMORY OF COMPOSER
OF "OLD BLACK JOE"

United Press Service
PITTSBURGH, June 2.—Not the least interesting part of tomorrow's celebration in this city will be the formal opening of the Stephen C. Foster home, dedicated about a year ago to the city in perpetuation of the composer's name and works.

All day and far into the evening a band will play his songs on the lawn. "Old Black Joe," "Swanee River," "My Old Kentucky Home" and "Nellie Gray" and other favorites he wrote will be played.

The piano that Foster frequently used and a score of other interesting relics of him have been loaned indefinitely to the city by his descendants and will be attractively placed in the house.

Judge D. V. Kykendall and family and Miss Maggie Woods leave soon for an auto trip to Drain, Eugene and Portland. They will visit relatives in Drain and Eugene and attend the Portland Rose Show. It is their intention to be away about two weeks.

Dr. Warren Hunt and wife are planning an auto trip to the Portland Rose Show and to Washington points, where they will visit relatives.

Chicago Holds Monster
Preparedness Parade

CHICAGO, June 2.—A preparedness demonstration equal to New York's gripped Chicago today. It was the prelude to a series of big events which throw this city in the world's spotlight of news, for the next ten days.

Nearly a quarter of a million Chicago men, women and children, it is estimated, marched today in a parade to arouse the nation to preparedness. Sober minded men and women—bankers, politicians, society women, clerks, shop girls—from all walks of life who want peace, but not "at any price" marched.

There were 50,000 marchers from the United Young Men's clubs alone. One feature of the parade was the suffragist section. Another was the motorcycle section, in which several thousand motorcyclists rode their machines.

One hundred and eighty union chauffeurs offered their cars without charge to anyone desiring to take part in the parade. The steel mills in South Chicago and Gary, Indiana, sent five thousand men.

The Illinois National Guard regiments marched by special permission of Governor E. G. Deneke. It was estimated that Mayor William Hale Thompson will have to sit in the reviewing stand twelve hours if he plans to see the parade from start to finish.

Major-General E. Young headed the parade. His chief aid was Colonel Milton J. Foreman, of the First Illinois cavalry regiment, one of the best equipped bodies in the national guard.

H. L. Van Tack, who organized the huge preparedness parade held in New York City recently co-operated with August Hibbard of Chicago, in organizing today's demonstration.

It was estimated there were more than a million spectators.

Germans to Show Their
Fealty to This Nation

United Press Service
NEW YORK, June 2.—To demonstrate their patriotism 500,000 German and Austro-Hungarian Americans and their friends will go to Sheephead Bay speedway, tomorrow and salute a gigantic American flag composed of 2,000 girls attired in the national colors.

The event is under the auspices of the American Liberty Day committee, and is intended to impress the country with the love these citizens of foreign birth have for the flag and the welfare of the United States.

There will be exhibitions by turners and mass callisthenes of 3,000 men and women members of the clubs in the North American Turner Bund and chorus singing by 10,000 children of German congregation.

A special program of daylight fireworks is listed, and a parade with floats will illustrate a number of great examples of Germans who, from Revolutionary days have been of great importance in shaping the course of the American republic.

Further details regarding plans, construction, materials and quantities.

Said improvement will be let in one contract, and bids will be received for bitulithic pavement and for oil macadam, and will be opened for consideration by the Common Council on the 5th day of June, 1916, at the hour of 8 o'clock p. m. Bidders will be required to submit bids on blanks prepared by the city engineer, and bids will not be considered unless so submitted. Bids may be obtained at the office of the Police Judge.

The successful bidder will be required to give bond in a sum to be fixed by the Common Council for the faithful performance of the contract to be entered into for making said improvement. Each bid must be accompanied by a check, certified by some responsible bank for 5 per cent of the amount bid, as a guarantee that the successful bidder will enter into contract with the city for the making of such improvement, within ten days from the date of the award.

The Common Council reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to make such improvement on behalf of the city.

Dated at Klamath Falls, May 19, 1916.
A. L. LEAVITT, Police Judge.

Like the American Indian, the modern "Savage," the buyer of Savage Tires and Grafite Tubes is far sighted.

Far sighted because he realizes that final cost—actual mileage per dollar—is the real test.

Far sighted because in buying Savage, he gets both greater mileage and a small first cost.

Far sighted because he gets 1000 extra miles in the Savage guarantee allowance (the Savage Tube is guaranteed for life), and many extra thousands in actual use.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

By MARGARET MASON
(Written for the United Press)

Her parasol is edged with fringe, And she's fringe on her dainty gown. Her curling lashes fringe her eyes And she lives on the fringe of town.

NEW YORK, June 3.—To be on the fringe of society is the last thing one could wish, but to have on the fringe of fashion is the latest thing one could wish.

Indeed, it seems as if fringe were infringing on the popularity of all other trimmings.

The fringed frocks are omnipresent and boasts anything from tiny edging of vivid hues yarn fringe to a deep fringe of silk, either black or of a tone to match or contrast with the gown.

It is used effectively on the bottoms of the wide skirts and to edge the bell shaped sleeves.

One stunning evening model shows an entire overskirt of knotted silk fringe of yellow, black, blue, green and old rose over a petticoat of turquoise-blue chiffon. The sleeves are mere shreds of fringe and the apology for a bodice is a scrap of the turquoise chiffon.

The new wide cape collars are edged with narrow, colorful fringe; hats have a narrow yarn fringe edging and I even glimpsed a swaggy damsel who wiped her up-tilted, up-to-date nose on a handkerchief of pale mauve with a tiny old blue edging of thread fringe. Fringe is certainly up to snuff.

On the loose long taffeta coats and wraps either for day or evening wear the fringe is vying with the pinked ruchings as a finish but it is as a finish for a parasol perhaps that fringe reaches its truly highest point.

One smart sunshade of emerald green taffeta is built on the flat, many ribbed Chinese parasol lines with a blunt little snubnose ebon ferule and a long knob finished handle of the same glossy black.

A bright green silk cord is knotted round the handle, with a fitting loop through which its owner's fair arm is meant to stick when she shuts up her sunshade in shady byways and chooses to dangle it at arm's length.

The real finishing touch of this adequately lovely parasol, however, is an edging of three-inch black silk fringe that brooks no infringement of the sun's rays across the summer girl's countenance.

A zebra-sque sunshade is one of black and white striped taffeta. The stripes radiate outward from the center and end in a fringe of alternate black and white striping to match the silk. The handle to this is of white with a black knob at the top.

A certain parasol fringed like the black and green one is also very stunning though a bit prone to cast a too rosy glow over a healthy countenance. No one may expect to look pale and interesting under cover of a cerise sunshade.

A shell pink taffeta sunshade that is a mass of petal shaped scallops like a huge pink rose just adds the pink of perfection to a summer toilette of white net and pink picot ribbon, but a shade deeper it is wiser not to go.

A purple satin parasol veiled in a film of black Spanish lace with quaint purple glass knobbed stick, in a Fifth avenue window is a replica of great grandmother's that now moulders in the attic and proves the aphorism that there's nothing new under the sun—not even a 1916 parasol.
